Class of 1987

The Senior Class of 1987 has come a long way. In 1973 we began phase one of our lives, kindergarten. We began to experience what we would later come to know as friendship, and we began developing skills that we would use for a lifetime. Our grade school years came and went quickly and before we knew it we were beginning Jr. High. We were all very scared of the fact of being the youngest at such a big school, but as each year passed it seemed to get easier. We have each learned to be responsible young adults. We have finally made it to our final phase of high school; we are now Seniors.

On May 31, 1987 we will each go our separate ways. Each of us will do our best to make our dreams come true. So as we part with the guidance and abilities we've gained, from the past thirteen years, we the class of 1987 say our last goodbyes!

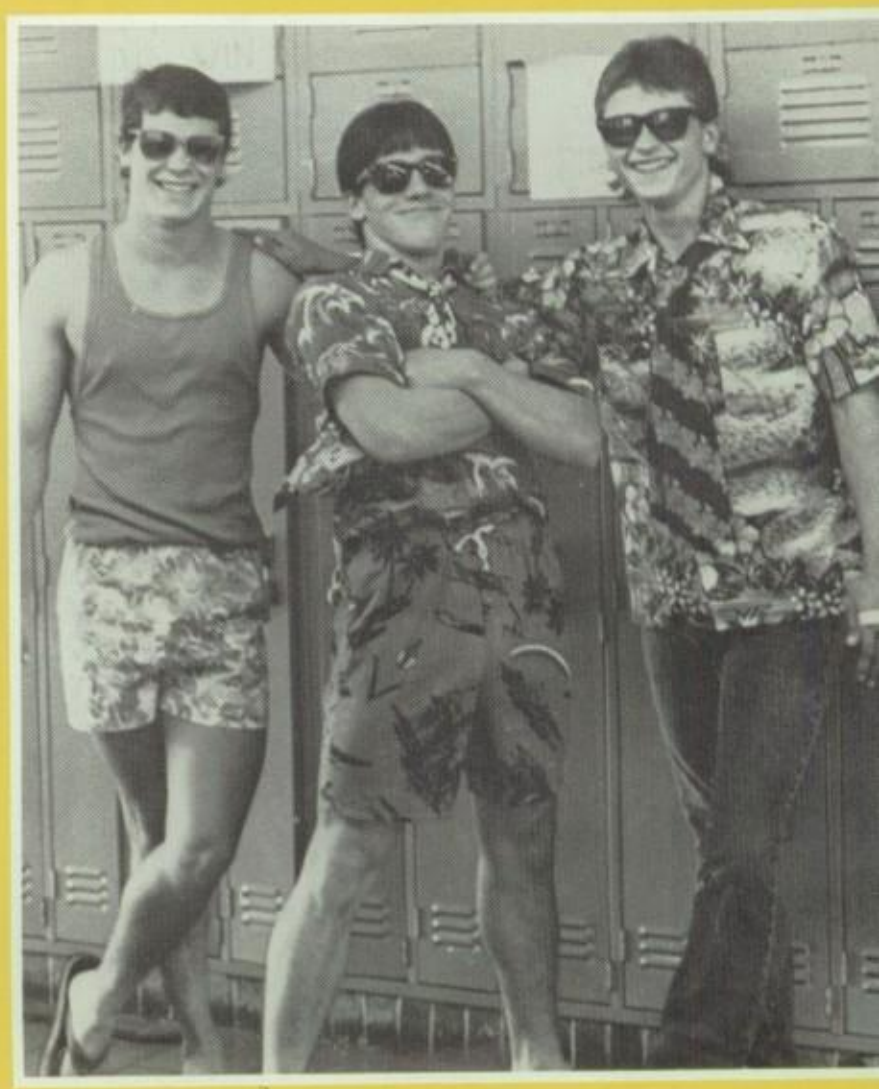
Senior Officers: President, D. Reese; Vice Pres., J. Lewsader, Secretary, M. Fritzen; Treasurer, L. Delp.

Having A Ball!

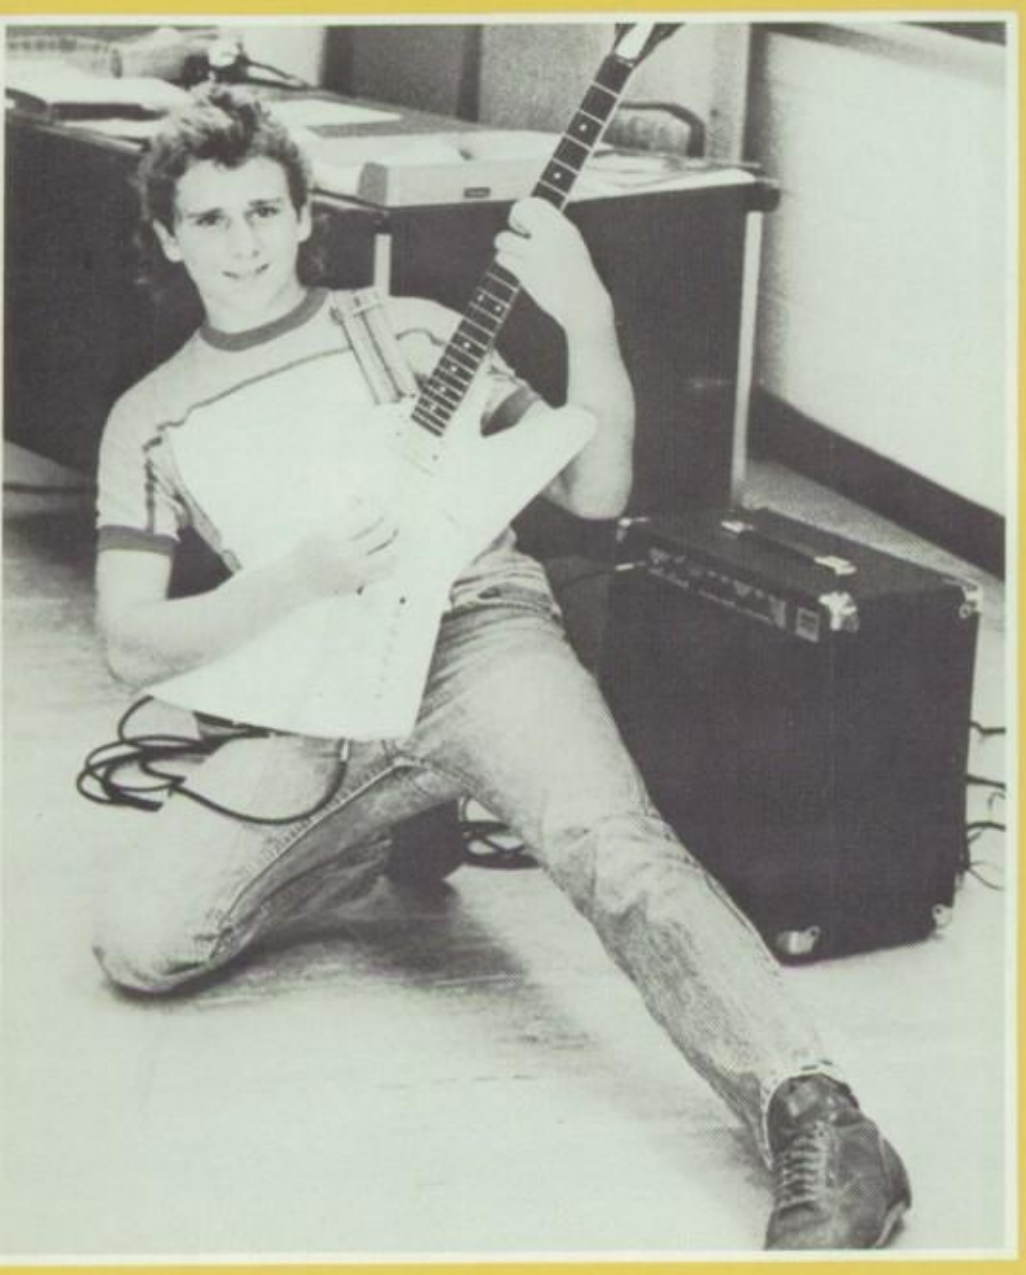
From the week of Homecoming to the arrival of our yearbooks, from giving speeches to pep sessions, the school year is a series of fun times and laughter. Everyone gets involved in the fun, from our principal to our football players dressing up as cheerleaders. Between classes and after school, the halls ring with the laughter of the students. The smiles on our faces are shared by everyone as the school day ends and we finish another day of having fun and learning that we are all just human and everyone makes mistakes, even teachers. As the day ends, we are greeted in the halls by smiles and laughter. Still, among all the laughter, we accomplish our studies and make the best of them. Part of what we learn is learning to laugh at ourselves, a skill that we can use throughout our lives. Best of all, in laughing at ourselves, we learn that school is fun and having a ball isn't too hard when everyone around you is having fun.

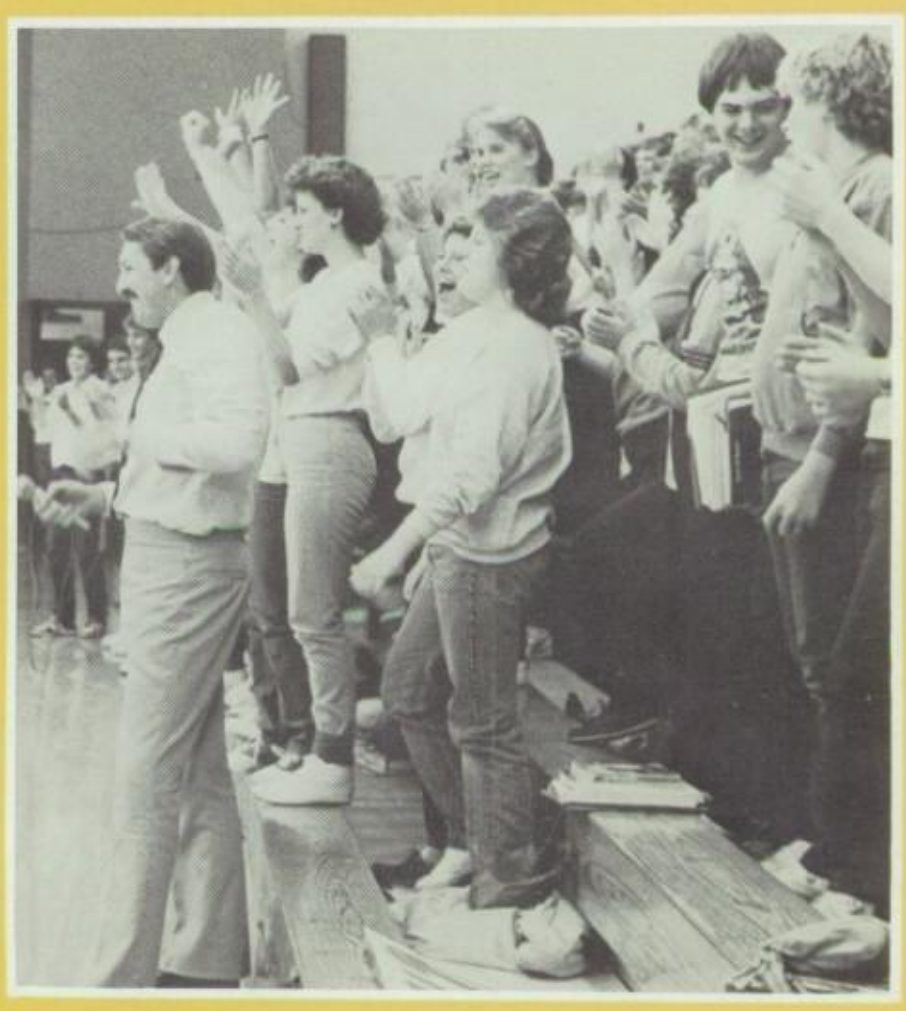
Yearbooks always draw a crowd.

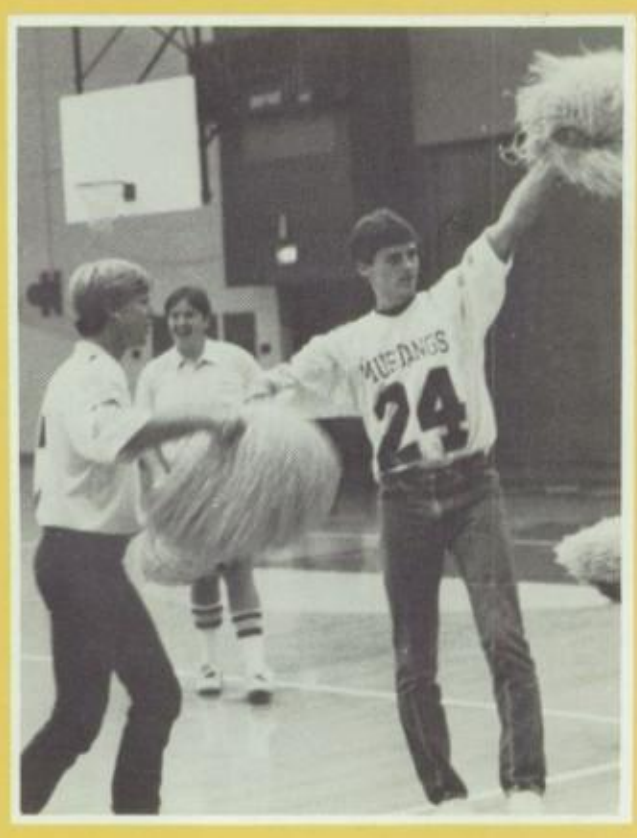
J. Millikan, our favorite clown, takes it easy.



Who gets your vote? Bachelor #1, bachelor #2, or bachelor #3.







D. Abney and B. Carlson get the fans to "shout."

Who is the coolest of all?

A Circle of Friends

Mrs. Holt shows T. Summers that teachers can be both friendly and helpful.

"Lean on me," says Rob to Lori.

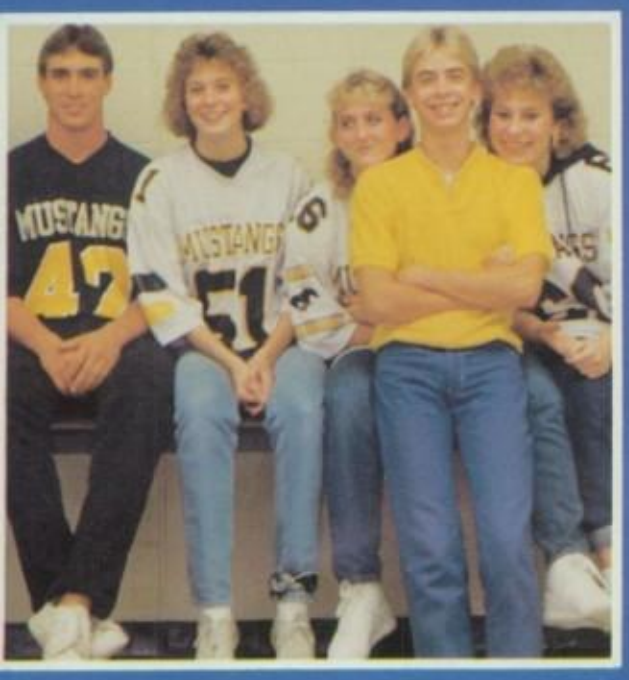
Meeting friends is one of the best parts of school. Just ask Beau, Roger, Stephanie, Rachelle, and James.

Mr. Halladay, Mr. Owens, and Mr. Metzger are on the warpath; look out Laura!

Raquel and Julie show you can be pretty in something besides pink.

"Hi, Mom," says Jamie H. while Dan H., Travis R., Ericka W., and Kim D. join the fun.

The year goes quickly and we are soon involved in all the merrymaking that goes along with school. Groups of smiling and laughing friends are easy to find in the halls before school and between classes. After the final bell has rung, it's time to practice for the upcoming game. But, that doesn't mean we can't still have fun. Friends are easy to find here and the good times are shared by all. Smiles and laughter are found with friends. So, come join us and share the good times as we live through another year of school. For the seniors, it's the last year they get in this circle of friends.



Juniors show their colors.

Jennifer B. and Gretchen C. are spirited buddies.

Pulling Together

The old adage goes, "two heads are better than one." F.C. students find when they work with their friends, school is a far more enjoyable place to be. In class, assignments go better when friends work together, because there is someone there to help and give you assurance that everything is going well.

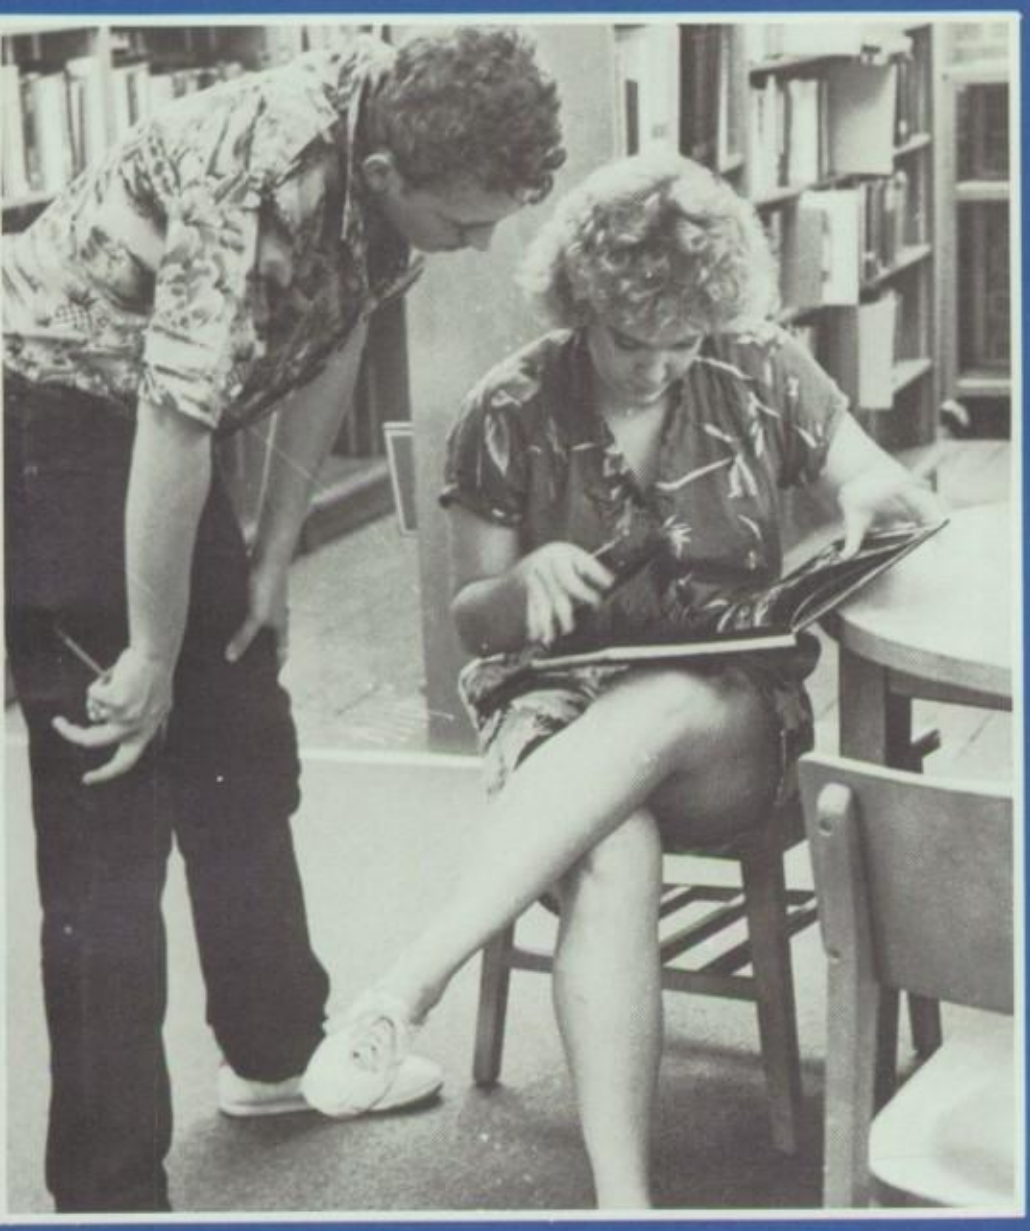
During pep sessions the entire school pulls together to show how proud we are to be Mustangs. It takes everyone from Mr. Williams, to the band, to the cheerleaders, to the students, in order to make the occasion a spirited one.

The times we remember most are the ones that are shared with others. Happiness is not an emotion that should be kept to yourself. As we share happiness, it seems to grow, and everyone feels better because of it. The more happiness we share, the more there is for everyone to enjoy and enjoying what you do is the most memorable thing about school.

Mark F. makes a terrific anchor man.

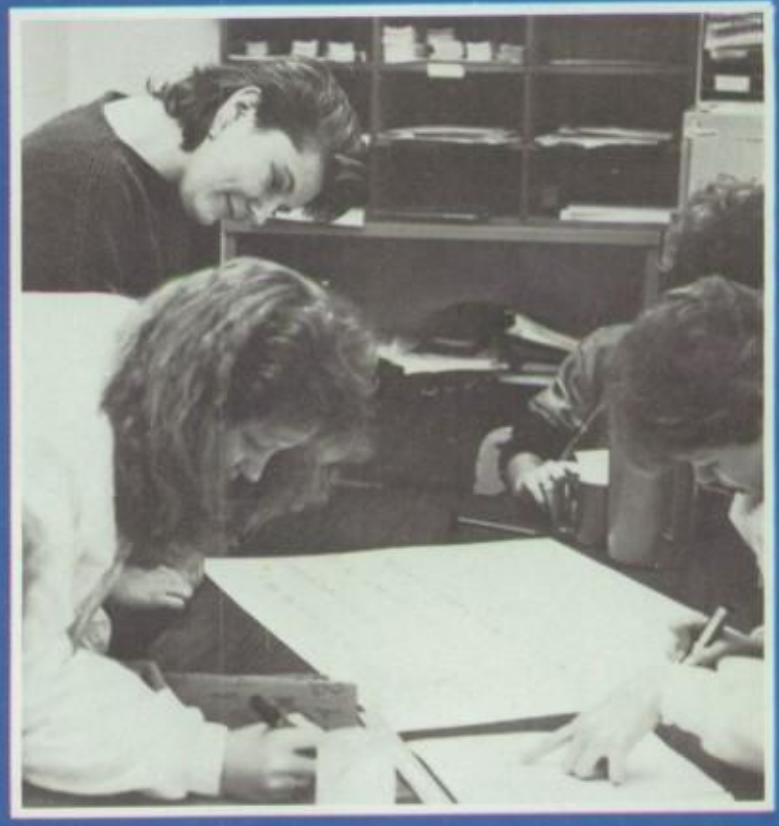
Eric B. seems to be on a wave-length of his own.

Are two heads really better than one? Just ask Brady and Eric.



Jerry W. and Judy R. seriously critique the 1986 yearbook.

Jeremy L. teaches Sonja and Stacey how to fry rice the Chinese way.



Stephanie D., Rhonda H., and friends produce a commercial.

How about a raffle ticket? The freshmen cheerleaders will gladly sell you one.

Homecoming 1986

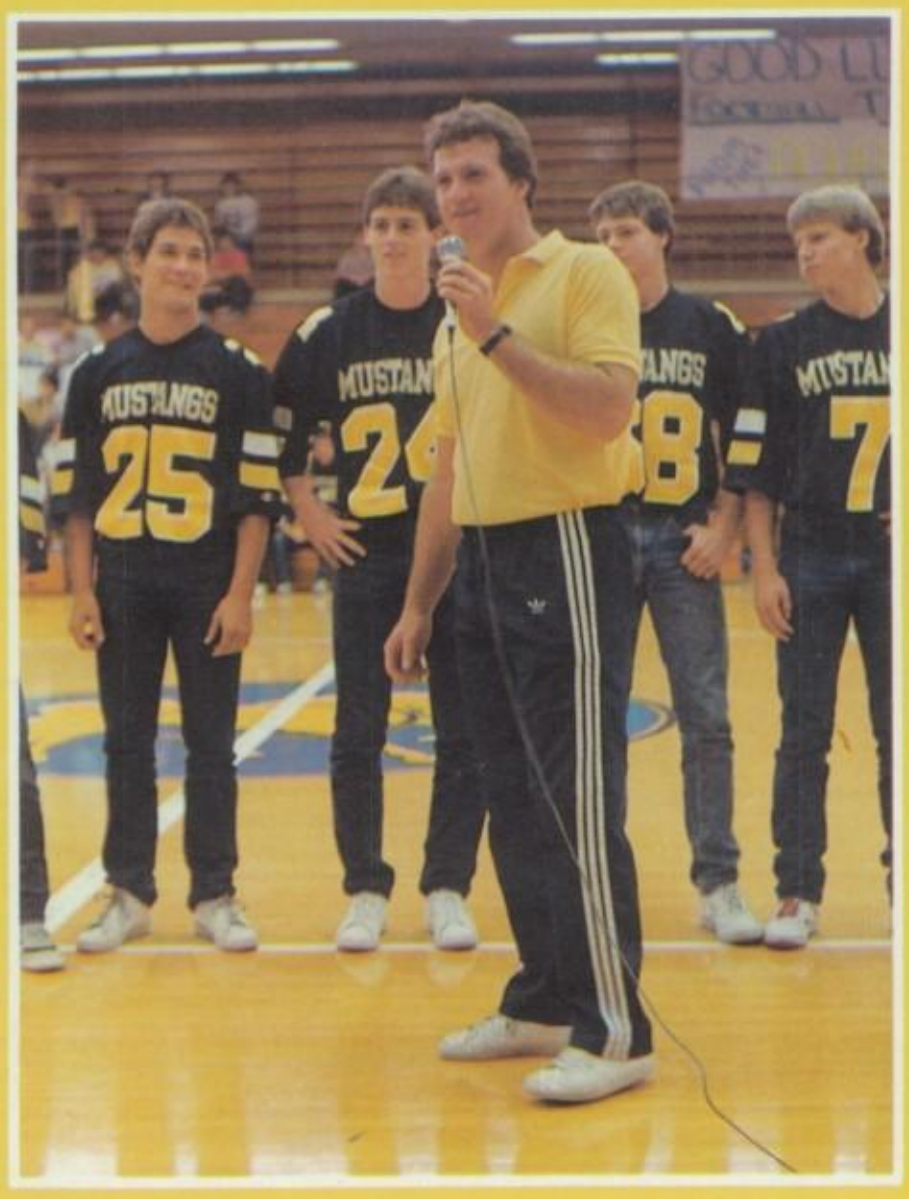
It rained for days, but Homecoming went on as scheduled. However, Mother Nature caused some of the traditional activities to be altered. The bonfire and powder puff football games gave way to a volleyball game in the gym. Also, because of pools of water on the track, the floats had to hold their positions at the end of the field. The Queen and her court had to tramp across a muddy field as rain fell on their finery. In spite of the weather they looked radiant.

Rob and Laura make a royal, but muddy pair.

Homecoing Court: A. Ward, C. Snyder, K. Krug, L. Rogers, T. Ratcliff, M. Allen, N. Dalle, S. Rice.

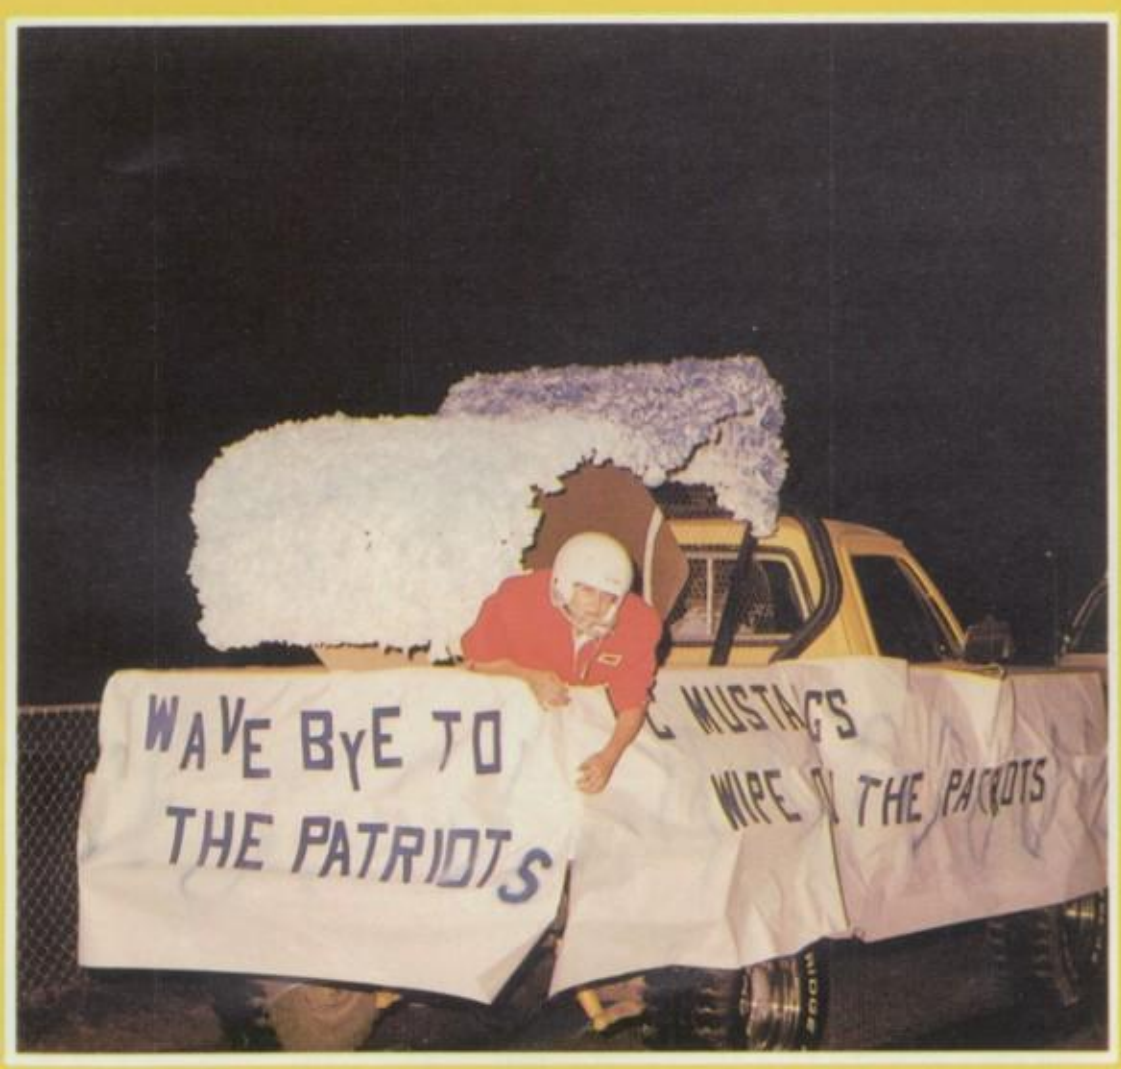
Lower R.: Seniors finish fourth.

Lower L.: Juniors are #1.



Coach Landis fires up the crowd when he introduces his senior players.

Energetic freshmen take second.



Nikki cautiously treds her way through the mud, but Jim doesn't let it bother him.

Sophomores wave bye to the Patriots.

K. Krug uses his time well.

"No, no, not a picture of me," says M. Sheridan.

Lower R: J. Warrick and M. Powell study together.

Below: L. Harshbarger hits the books.

If you asked everyone what hey value most, you would robably get as many different nswers as there are people. Vhat is important to different eople differs greatly, but host would probably agree hat our friends are very im- ortant. Our friends affect us n countless ways. They help hape our lives and our fu- ures in ways we do not even ealize. Together we have een through a lot. Our iends have been glad with us hen we were happy and sym- athized with us when we ere sad. We have good times nd a lot of laughter. We will reasure these memories of pecial times.

T. Wilson, A. Nixon, and S. Hardesty aren't models; they just look like they are.

M. Moody and B. Daniels say, "Yes, this is called a gauntlet."

Senior Days

Seniors are the leaders of the school. They set the style, pace, and standards for everyone. After four years of high school, they have learned how to have a good time while finishing the assignments that are required.

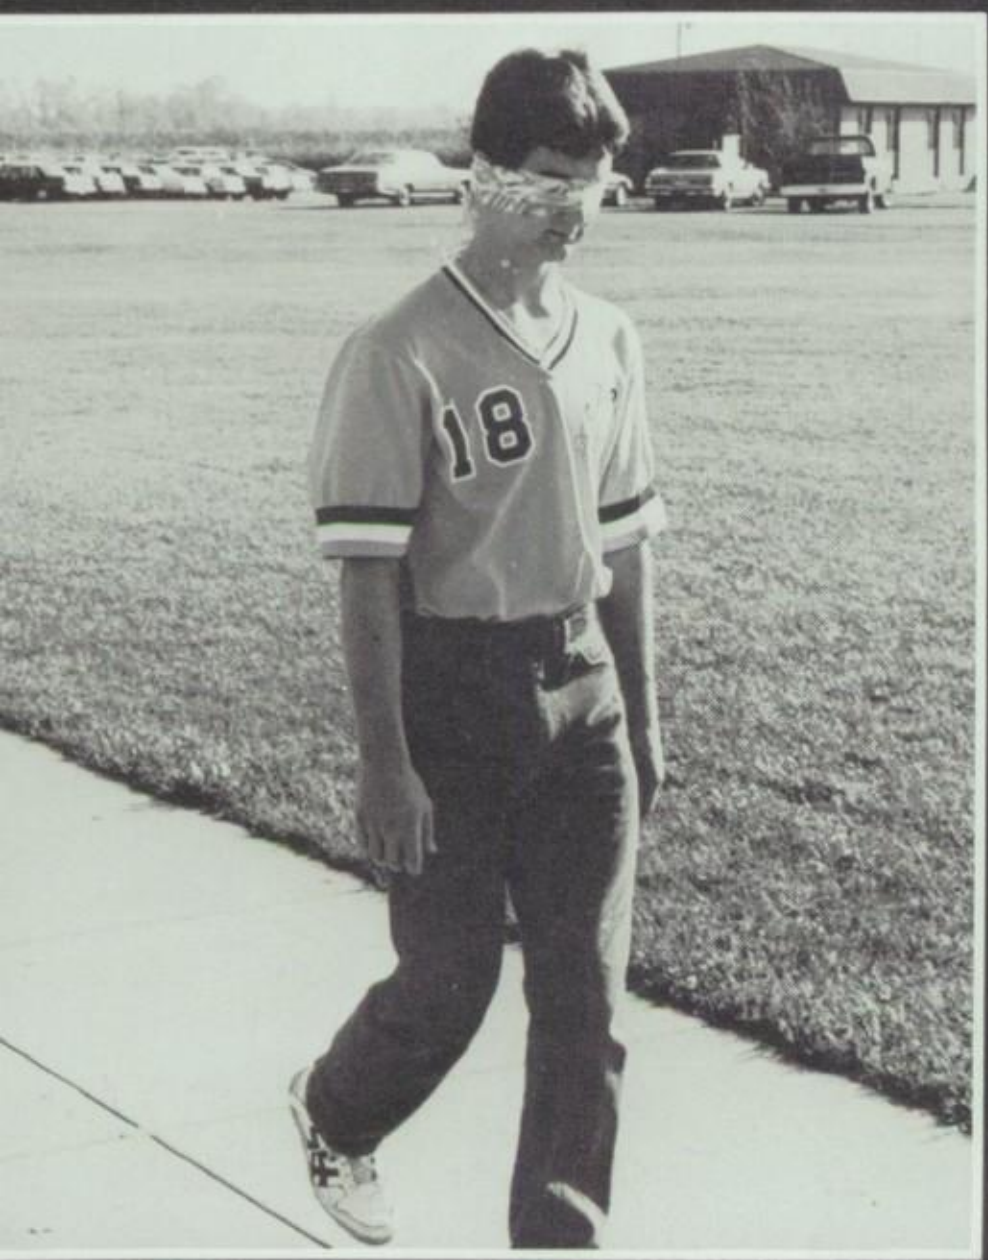
With this being their final year in high school, they are busy making the memories that will last throughout the rest of their lives. Time not spent in school is spent making decisions that will affect their future. They must decide whether or not to attend college and then which college to attend. Scholarships must be applied for and opportunities grasped. For some, the first step after graduation will be starting a family.

Graduation is a rite of passage that everyone experiences. For some graduation is dreaded. Others have counted down the time remaining since they were freshmen. Friends and faculty have influenced them in ways that they will carry with them in their hearts forever.

Hungry men have man-sized appetites. Just ask R. Sheldon, C. Harrison, K. Harrison, and K. Mortimore.

K. Lefton knows keyboarding skills will help her next year.

Senior C. Walls shows a sophomore class how to film the show.



Do you think S. Lewis knows where he is going?

Senior announcements can be expensive, as T. Martin finds out.

C. Swingle, R. Earley, and R. Graham participate in one of Mr. Halladay's experiments.

Class officer, M. Fritzen, discovers leadership means responsibility as she helps hand out announcements.

T. Heath, M. Payne, and A. Spencer participate in "Bum Day"

For the first time in F.C. history, a Winter Homecoming and spirit week was held. The spirit week was a huge success. All of the classes showed they had lots of pride in our winter sports' programs. Each day the classes competed for points, which were based on class participation and enthusiasm at Wednesday's pep session. In the end the seniors captured the spirit award, earning the privilege of attending the dance free. The crowning of the king and queen took place during half time of the F.C.-Rockville game. Senior Tina Ratcliff was crowned spirit queen and Senior Roger Merryman was crowned king. The Royal Court candidates were Missy Allen, Marla Fritzen, Karin Krug, Rob Earley, Chuck Walls, and Beau Gookins. Class presidents Dana Reese, Julie Overpeck, Candy Helgers, and Kim Dalle, and Student Council president Kristin Mitchell also took part in the ceremony by presenting crowns, flowers, and certificates to the king and queen.

Student Leaders

The National Honor Society and Student Council are made up of an elite group of students ranging from freshman up to seniors. To be selected as a member of the National Honor Society a student must maintain a B average and have the qualities of a good leader. The NHS inducted sixteen new members at the 1987 induction ceremony. The current officers led the ceremony and the new inductees recited the Honor Society pledge.

The members of the Student Council bring excitement to the school curriculum. In the fall the Student Council is in charge of all Homecoming activities which include float competition, powderpuff football, and the queen coronation. Then during the Christmas season they bring Santa to F.C. This spring the Council is planning a "Spring Fling", a spirit week much like that of Homecoming.

Journalism— The Heartbeat of F.C.

Journalism is the heartbeat of a school. In the journalism room, the students keep the records of all the important events of what happens during the school year.

It's the job of a reporter to keep informed of what's going on and who's doing it. Student reporters collect the news, write it, and then lay it out in either newspaper or yearbook form. The pen, the computer, and the camera are the tools of the journalist.

Students realize that journalism can be fun, because each day is different, but they also learn that accuracy is very important. In either class, the students have to learn to be accurate and to get the job done on time because of deadlines that have to be met to keep production on schedule.

Students also realize the importance of accurate spelling and reporting of names. Errors are not only embarrassing and aggravating, but in the yearbook, errors cost time and money.

Write On!

Many skills are important in a student's education. Spelling research, and composition are all important. Normally we associate these skills with English classes, but actually they are essential in most of the classes a student takes.

The Fountain Central spelling teams performed quite well in state competition again this year. The senior high team placed first in Regional competition and missed state qualification by just one word and the junior high team placed fourth in the state. Mrs. Lynette McMahan, Chairman of the English department, coached both teams.

English is a course that every student takes in one form or another from seventh grade until his junior year, and many students continue their English education by taking English in their senior year.

In English, a student learns the correct grammar to be used and the correct form to use when writing paragraphs, essays, and stories.

Scientifically Speaking

The science classes study many different areas, from the different forms of life to the structure of the atom. The subjects range from general science to the difficult problems in chemistry and physics.

Students learn by listening to the teacher and by watching what happens during a lab. These labs range from observing the cells of a leaf to disecting a fish, from watching a snake to making lye soap, and include everything in between.

The study of science, in its many different forms, is the study of the life process and of the many different parts that make up life, including things like cells and atoms.

Perhaps one day in the future, one of today's science students will find a cure for the common cold or cancer, or find an easy way to clean up our environment.

Consider what we can get from studying science.

Tell us what you think.

We shape our thoughts with words; then with these words, we communicate our ideas to others. Sometimes just putting into words what we want to say is a really tough thing to do. In speech class, students get the opportunity to learn how to communicate effectively and to communicate their thoughts to others. At times that can be a very frightening task, but just the opposite can also be true. Students realize there can be great satisfaction in expressing their views to others and they discover that the ideas of others can be very interesting.

Speech can be scary, entertaining, and fun. It's an opportunity for a student to really get to know other members of his class. Subjects discussed in the students' speeches vary from such topics as how to mark the ear of a pig to really thought provoking topics of important worth.

The students went to much effort to prepare a meal which started with a choice of soups, featured Italian baked chicken, was complemented by fettucine, green beans, crescent rolls, and salad, and was finished by cherry crepes.

The students in the home economics department learn table manners, serving techniques, how to set a table in the proper way, cooking with all types of foods, the different cuts of meat, to make their own clothing, to design their own homes, cooperation with their peers and family members, how to do a wedding, how to care for their future children, how to prepare a resume, make a personal file, find a job, and how to prepare for and attend a job interview.

Choose Your Medium

Creativity is the basis of the visual arts as they exist today. A person who can visualize something and turn it into an object that can be seen and admired is very much needed in our society.

This year Mrs. Kathryn Haas took over Fountain Central's art department. Her students' works were exhibited in many local art shows, including the d'Arlier Trust Spring Art Show. Also the students sent some of their art work to the L.S. Ayres Scholastics Competition. Two students, Cheryl Borst and Allen Slaven were honored with Gold Keys. Cheryl's work was sent on to the national competition in New York along with the best works from all across the nation.

The Art Club was also very active this year. During basketball season they sponsored a dance that was heavily attended by the students. They also went on a field trip to the Scholastics competition in Indianapolis.

I Made It!

"I made it." is something any one could be proud to say. Coming up with an idea and having the skill to bring a project into reality gives a person a real sense of accomplishment, as well it should.

School gives students a chance to develop practical and creative skills that they can use throughout the remainder of their lives.

It is not all academics. In some of the classes student start with the basic materials and tools and skillfully use them to create works of art. In these classes students find they can express themselves through the projects they create. These projects are displayed in the halls and bring color to the environment we live in. People who are skilled in the arts are needed in society. They keep the world from being a dull and uninteresting place.

Welders Win It All!

Welding is offered as a vocational class at Fountain Central. Beginning welding takes place in the afternoon and advanced is held in the morning. Members of the welding class learn practical skills that will help them in the work world. The highlight of the year was winning the Indiana-Kentucky Welding Classic held in Pleasure Ridge, Kentucky. All five students competing received honors. Kevin Harrison — first in Theory, Roger Merryman — third in Oxy, James Douglas — third in Tig, Beau Gookins — fourth in Stick, and Ken Storckman — fifth in Wire. For the second time in vocational welding history F.C. captured the team trophy. The welding received much personal satisfaction in winning the Indiana Kentucky Welding Classic.

Sports can extend our education and teach qualities beyond our classroom experiences. We learn that if we want to win we have to make that extra effort that sometimes hurts and even pushes us to the limits of our abilities. We learn that we have to listen to our coaches because we know they want to win as much as we do. Also, they see the total game; whereas, we often see the game only from our own perspective.

Best Season Even

The eighty-six varsity volleyball team ended its best season ever with a 15 and 6 mark. The Lady Mustangs learned to work together and win as a team. F.C.'s team was made up of athletes who had encouraging attitudes. The team's most valuable player award went to Amy Buker. Stacie Allhands earned the most improved award while Raquel Fonner received the mental attitude award. The Best Effort award went to Julie Overpeck. The team finished second in the Wabash River Conference battle. The ladies suffered a disappointment mid-season, finishing third in the Bi-County, but have many returning players for next year.

Tri-Captains, M. Allen K. Mitchell, and J. Pool led the Lady Swimmers throughout the season.

The girls' varsity swim team finished with a 12-4 record out of the sixteen meet regular season, winning the Bi-County for the second year straight, placing third in the Wabash River Conference, and tying for fourth in the Sectionals.

Freshman Tammy Bowlus placed second in diving at Sectionals and qualified for State competition.

Awards were presented at the Fall Sports Banquet to Caril Duncan and Kristin Mitchell, receiving the Most Valuable Swimmer award for having the most total points during the season; Stephanie Newnum, receiving the Most Improved award; and Gretchen Craft, receiving the Mental Attitude award.

The team was led by tri-captains, Missy Allen, Julia Pool, and Kristin Mitchell. Not returning next season are the four seniors Missy Allen, Missy Evans, Angie Moore, and Julia Pool.

Next year's season looks promising due to the many returning letter winners from this year.

This concludes the seventh season for girls' swimming and the third straight winning season.

Swim To Win

The boys' varsity swim team completed its 1986-87 season in late February, placing seventh at the Western Boone Sectional. The team's record this year was 6-9, an impressive showing after the past two years.

At the Bi-County meet hosted by Seeger, the team placed second to Seeger. Firsts for F.C. were Ryan Lindley in the 200 Freestyle and 100 Butterfly, and the Free Relay Team of Hesser, Pool, Foley, and Lindley.

The WRC meet, hosted by FC, yielded a second for the Mustangs. First place went to Ryan Lindley in the 500 Freestyle.

The FC swimmers placed well this year in Sectionals. Ryan Lindley finished 4th in the finals in both the 50 and 100 Free; Brady Branam placed 11th in the 500 Free finals, and the Free Relay team of Branam, Pool, Hesser and Lindley placed 6th in the finals, setting a new school record.

Looking back on the season, Coach Taylor believes the team did an excellent job and the season, overall, was enjoyable.

Sectional Champs

The 1987 Wrestling team earned many honors throughout its season. At a winter pep session, the team presented Mr. Williams and the school with three trophies for the Bi-County title, the Sectional title, and the WRC title.

Commitment was the key to the season. Coach McNeely said, "The commitment has enabled them to have an outstanding season, with good senior leadership." He also stated, "This group of guys is probably the most dedicated team I've ever coached, over all."

The Mustangs were led by Rob Sheldon, 23-1 at 145, Ron Sheldon, 22-2 at 138, Granger Wann, 21-4 at 177, Neil Summers 19-3 at heavyweight, Roger Merryman, 18-4-1 at 126, and Beau Gookins 17-3-1 at 132.

Individual champions at Sectional were Roger Merryman, Beau Gookins, Ron and Rob Sheldon, Granger Wann, and Neil Summers. The winners and second place finishers then advanced to Regionals.

Through The Hoop!

The Boys' varsity basketball team had a very tough year but the team improved with every game. The Mustangs won a very important game in Sectional competition by soundly defeating Attica, but fell to Covington in a highly spirited game in the second round.

The award winners for the Mustangs were senior Mark Harvey, who won MVP, the co-captain award, and the free throw percentage award; Scott Lewis who won the award for most assists, and Rob Earley who won the 110% award. Sophomore Travis Richey won the leading rebounder award, field goal percentage award, and was named to the All Bi-County team. The Number One Fan Award was given to Mr. Vile and the 1986-87 Pep Band for their support. The Co-captains for the 1987-88 season were named at the Winter Sports Banquet. Elected by their teammates were Jim Rose and Eric Bowman.

Shoot The Hoop

This year's 1986-87 Varsity Girls' Basketball team experienced many ups and downs during the season. The team tied last year's record of 14-5. They started their season impressively with wins over Attica, South Vermillion, and North Montgomery, and entered the Bi-County championship game in January with only one loss. The team's second loss came in that game when they were unable to defend their 1986 Bi-County title against undefeated Seeger, but they continued the season with wins over arch-rival Covington and many other schools, including Attica, North Vermillion, and Rockville.

The team's morale was high and the spirit was evident in the team members. The senior trio of Jennifer Booe, Amy Buker, and Lori Delp finished their careers with a 52-24 record. Junior Tracey Lyons broke the record held by Michelle Jeffries for career points and passed the 1,000 point mark.

Athletics has been a real asset to my growth as an individual. Through them, I have learned leadership, discipline, commitment, responsibility, and how to work well with others. Athletics brings pride and unity to those who are involved in them, and to the school as a whole. I'm thankful for the opportunity that I have had to participate in sports at F.C., and for the pride, achievements, and enjoyment that they have brought me. — Amy Buker

Learning to reach the goals I set before me has always played an important role in my years as a student and player. Setting goals and striving for them has helped me to love competition, admire winning, accept losing, cope with failure, and strive to make myself a better player and person. Being on the team has given me confidence to achieve many goals that I had set. — Lori Delp

The 1987 boy's track team turned in some fine individual performances by three members. Two people, Brett Carlson and Kenny Priest were named to the All Bi-County team.

Three tracksters qualified for sectional competition at Terre Haute North High School. Rick Lightly and Brett Carlson competed in the 400 meter dash. Carlson also competed in the 200 meter dash in which he finished second. Kenny Priest qualified for sectional in the discus and placed fourth in the meet.

Individual Effort

Track is a sport in which students try to do their individual best to excell in their own event. In some areas such as the relay teams several people have to work together in order to be successful.

Two students went farther in competition than anyone else on the team. Senior, Julia Pool was a sectional qualifier in the high jump and sophomore, Jackie Warrick qualified for the sectional in the two-mile run. This was the first year for the two mile event. The sectional was held at North Montgomery.

Baseball Fever

The Mustang baseball season was not as successful as the players had hoped it would be, but several individual accomplishments were turned in by many players. Two players were named to the Bi-County squad. They were Chuck Walls and Chuck Brimbury.

The leading hitters for the team were Eric Bowman, Chuck Brimbury, Chad Swingle and Chuck Walls.

Three players maintained very good defensive records and managed to accumulate very few errors between them. These three were Chuck Brimbury, Ryan Lindley, and Sean Zachery.

The pitcher who compiled the best record for the 1987 season was senior Chris Bailey.

First Girls' Sectional Title

The 1987 girls' tennis team did what no other girls' team before it had ever done when the girls won their first sectional title. In order to do this they had to defeat Crawfordsville, Brownsburg and Western Boone. Then they found themselves among the last thirty-two teams in the state.

The girls advanced to the regional level where they fell to a strong Terre Haute South team.

In regular season play the team went undefeated with a record of 11-0. The girls won the WRC Conference and Bi-County titles.

Members of the team also earned individual honors. Winning All-Conference for the Mustangs were: Marla Fritzen and Tracey Lyons in singles and Raquel Fonner and Trena Lyons in doubles.

Marla Fritzen defeated Tracey Lyons to win the overall championship and Raquel Fonner and Trena Lyons won the overall doubles championship.

Success for the girls was achieved by much hard work and dedication.

Cheerleading looks like fun and most of the time it is, but many people don't realize that it also involves much work. Every week there is practice to attend. Also, there are signs to make. This keeps most cheerleaders busy because many of them have athletic practices of their own to attend.

In the summer, cheerleaders attend camp at which they learn new cheers and find out fresh ideas for maintaining school spirit. Last summer camp was held on the campus of DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana.

During this year's basketball Sectional and at all home basketball games, the JV and Varsity squads furnished a hospitality room for visiting cheer squads to help get better acquainted with each other.

Another nice gesture the cheerleaders performed was to provide each team with cakes the day of its Sectional Tournament competition.

The 1987 Prom was a huge success. There were 220 students in attendance and 29 faculty members. The DJ, Mike Royal of WWKI, brought songs of fast and slow tempo to set the mood of excitement and romance. The Prom colors, scarlet and ivory, were displayed throughout the Beef House. The restaurant was decorated with hundreds of ballons and beautiful flower settings at each table. The King and Queen of the 1986 Prom returned to crown the new royal couple, Mark Harvey, King and Tina Ratcliff, Queen. The reigning Prince and Princess are Ben Nine and Nikki Dalle.

J. Massey and J. Turner sit this one out with their dates.

Poem
to the Seniors

Another year goes passing by Another Prom is here
To some this brings a joyous smile
  To others, brings a tear
For four years you have tread a path
  From dawn to setting sun
But now the path gets steeper
And the climb is just begun.
We're very glad to know you
We'll miss you when you're gone
  And to the Class of '87
  We dedicate our Prom.

Spring Fling

Spring Fling was a new event this year at Fountain Central. Each day had a different theme. Many students were seen carrying tennis rackets on Tennis Day. On baseball day, students wore hats and jerseys displaying their favorite teams. On Picnic Day, some of the tables from the cafeteria were moved out onto the lawn so the students could enjoy their meal in the sunshine. There were also days set aside for golf and a Jungle Day, the highlight of which was a Tarzan Yell contest at lunch.

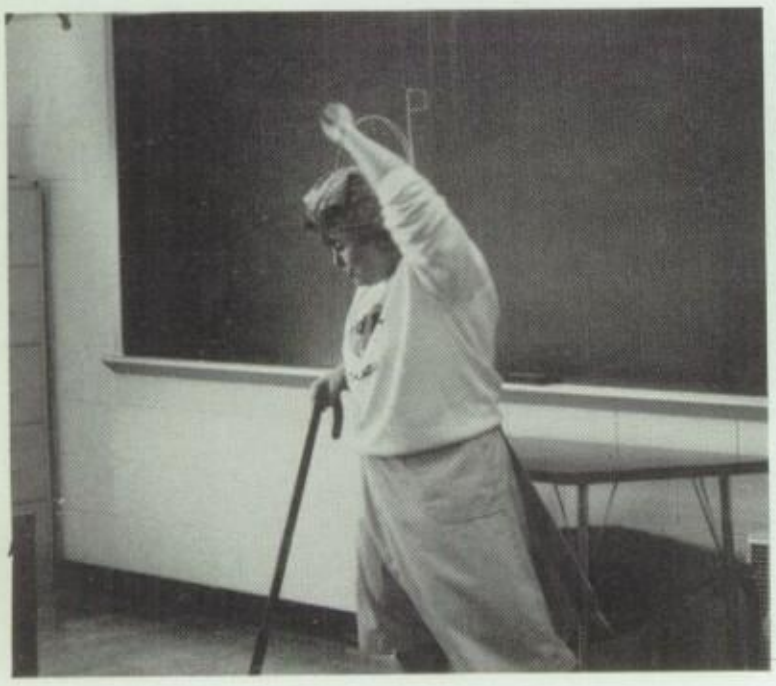
It's All In A Day

Spring brings warm weather and thoughts of summer vacation, but in the spring many activities are just heating up. In April the advanced speech class presented a convo where the students performed scenes from Saturday Night Live. The event seemed to be a smashing success.

Mr. Halladay's sociology class seemed to get into the acting mood also. Students enacted skits in which they tried to predict what they would do in case they were actually involved in a crime.

Miss Kashmer's Spanish class, also, got into the acting mood. They decided to enact an episode of Family Feud in Spanish.

People kept busy until the final bell of the final hour of the final day, but they managed to include some fun activities in their school day.



In sociology class C. Runion plays the part of a lady who has just had her purse snatched.

L. Rogers and K. Krug attempt to save C. Runion from the criminal played by C. Walls.

R. Merryman was a popular guy on "Picnic Day".

Members of the advanced speech class made several public appearances during the year.

S. Mayes acts as M.C. for a Spanish version of Family Feud, as he talks to contestants, D. Hannon and M. Parrish.

oderator, S. Mayes asks for responses from teammates, R. Lighty, C. Beasley, M. rrish and T. Serepin.

Dillon and T. Ratcliff, cousins, demonstrate brains must run in the family, as this ture was taken at the NHS reception.

C. Borst, J. Lewsader and C. Beasley earn Thespian points by being in the spring play.

With Rue My Heart Is Lade

A.E. Houseman

With rue my heart is laden
For golden friends I had,
For many a rose-lipt maiden
And many a lightfoot lad.

By brooks too broad for leaping
The lightfoot lads are laid,
The rose-lipt girls are sleeping
In fields where roses fade.
